

About SAFEbuilt

SAFEbuilt and the SAFEbuilt family of Community Development and Community Infrastructure Services companies — including SAFEbuilt, Calvin, Giordano & Associates, Interwest, Winston Services, M.T. Causley, Inc, and MTCI Private Provider Services, LLC — support local communities and developers. Founded in 1992, our business was built on the principle of serving the communities where we live, work and play. Through our subsidiary, Calvin, Giordano & Associates, we have been helping communities for over 85 years by enabling their local government's building departments to improve service, save money and community satisfaction.

SAFEbuilt[✓]®

- We are a leading provider of building department services in the U.S., providing services to over 1,800 clients across 37 states and Washington, DC.
- We offer building code administration, building inspection, and community development services to help communities with permitting, plan review, and inspection processes to maintain building code compliance, promote safety, protect property, recover from disasters, and reduce municipal risk.
- We employ over 1,200 professional code officials, inspectors, and plan reviewers with expertise across a wide range of construction disciplines to support municipalities for the short-, medium-, and long-term.
- We utilize technology and automation to help make building departments more efficient and transparent while bolstering customer service.
- We offer customized solutions to meet the specific needs and budget of each community we partner with.
- We have received industry recognition, including the National Association of Counties Achievement Award, for innovation and leadership in privatized services.

The Community Development Leader Awards (CDLA) recognizes the tireless work and unwavering commitment of the local leaders who keep our communities safe, running, growing, and thriving: the city managers, the public works directors, the city engineers, and the municipal leaders.

As an industry leader providing building department services to thousands of communities across the country for more than 30 years, we understand the dedication, innovation, passion, and leadership these professionals demonstrate daily. We see it every day in offices and on job sites, in town halls and in town squares. And this work is often so much more than “business as usual.”

We established the CDLA to honor their hard work and the challenges these remarkable individuals face, as well as their innovations and their achievements. An opportunity to bring some well-deserved recognition to their service.
